When you are a potential client or a client, we will process the following personal data about you:

In order to provide our services, we collect and process your personal data. We process information about you when you begin using our services and we process it on an on-going basis, should you become a client.

We will process the following:

- name, address, phone number, email;
- a record of the information that you provide to us;
- a record of any complaints/ compliments made by you and the action taken in respect of any such complaint/ compliments.

Why do we need it?

Queen Square Chambers processes personal data about our clients in order to provide an effective and high-quality service and to fulfil our legal obligations. We will process your data to:

- provide you with the services or information that you have asked for;
- keep a record of your relationship with us
- send you correspondence and communicate with you;
- meet our legal obligations;
- respond to or fulfil any requests, complaints or queries that you may have; and
- understand how we can improve our services or information.

OUR LEGAL BASIS FOR PROCESSING PERSONAL DATA

By law, we need a legal basis for processing the personal data of a client. We will process your data using the legal basis of consent, contract, legal obligation and legitimate interests.

Consent

Consent is given where we ask you for permission to use your information in a specific way and you agree to this. Where we use your information for a purpose based on consent, you have the right to withdraw consent for this purpose at any time. For example, you consent to receive our Newsletter by email.

Contract

Contract is where we either have a contract with you or you wish to enter into a contract with us. For example, we have a contract for our services.

Legal obligation

We have a basis to use your personal information where we need to do so to comply with one of our legal obligations. For example, we need to hold your data for seven years due to HMRC requirements.

Legitimate interests

We have a basis to use your personal information if it is reasonably necessary for us to do so and in our "legitimate interests" (provided that what the information is used for is fair and does not unduly impact your rights).

For example, we have a legitimate interest to keep your personal data on our systems in order to keep it secure, process it and to provide you with a service.

We only rely on legitimate interests where we have considered any potential impact on you, whether or not our processing is excessive and that our processing does not override your right
